FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Pullman, WA: Pullman Civic Theater Opens Search for New Artistic Director

Pullman Civic Theater has opened a search for a new Artistic Director to lead the theater's staff starting in May. The current AD, Travis Gray, will be stepping down this spring but will continue to assist staff in performing and directing shows and will continue to teach the company's acting classes.

The Artistic Director is primarily responsible for assuring each production produced by PCT matches the artistic and educational mission of PCT and to effectively manage the production Staff and volunteers. The position, like all the staff positions at PCT, is strictly voluntary. Those interested in applying may send their cover letter and resume to PCT Board Member, Kristin Lincoln at kewilliams82@gmail.com by April 1st.
